To Whom It May Concern,

I'm glad to be writing in support of the work performed by Operation Job Ready Veterans (OJRV). We at Hines CWT have worked collaboratively with them since 2015. They have been an excellent community partner in helping veterans to explore the labor market, develop work related soft skills, and reaching out to veterans in a large geographically and demographically diverse region.

We have found OJRV staff (many if not all of whom are Veteran's themselves) to be professional, proficient, and highly dedicated individuals. They have assisted Hines staff in providing job club, softs skills training, job development, and networking opportunities in the community.

I have no reservations recommending VA programs work collaboratively with OJRV as an effective, professional, dedicated partner in helping Veterans to succeed in employment.

Sincerely,
